National Steel Head Sees 25% Sales Gain by 1980

By WILLIAM F. WINTER
Editor

"Business is awfully good" and seems sure to stay that way through 1973 and well into 1974, George A. Stinson, chairman and president of National Steel Corporation, told Quad-Cityans yesterday.

The longer-range view is for 3% annual growth totaling about 25% by 1980 for both National Steel and the steel industry.

Stinson said in addressing a luncheon gathering of the St.

Louis Society of Securities Analysts.

Financing of new facilities to allow for such growth in production is not a problem, he said.

Much of the needed capacity already is being created or currently exists, such as at National's local subsidiary, Granite City Steel Co., Stinson noted.

"Our hot mill production, the heart of the steel process, is still a long way from the potential capacity at Granite City Steel. This gives us the ability to grow very substantially over the present volume," he related.

The speaker gave a detailed resume of National Steel, third largest American steel producer, and said it plans to continue concentrating on producing and fabricating the metals with which it is familiar—steel, aluminum and magnesium.

His presentation showed an optimistic outlook for steel-makers in general and National in particular. While there is no way to make such a talk totally objective, "I believe every word of it," he emphasized.

Stinson in answer to questions said National's magnesium production is likely to triple in the foreseeable future and that environmental improvement costs are expected to be at manageable levels.

Anti-pollution equipment acquisition has been included within the corporation's allocations for capital spending, he said.

Capital expenditures for all purposes totaled $113 million last year and will be about the same this year, Stinson reported.

Tracing the history of National Steel to 1929, when Detroit, Pittsburgh and Cleveland area companies merged, the speaker said it always has relied on decentralized management and will continue to do so.

Steel-related personnel at the corporate headquarters in Pittsburgh number only 70 to 75, the securities group was told.

Exceptions to this rule were described as commercial polcies and financial-investment planning.

Discussing National's "two-year-old marriage" with Granite City Steel, Stinson said there is no basic loss of local autonomy and that "you've gained a son, not lost a daughter."

He explained that National owns most of its own raw materials and handles all phases of production, finishing and fabricating.

Traditionally stressing light, flat-rolled and coated steel sheet production as its primary activity, the company has as its major customers automotive firms and tinplate can manufacturers, Stinson said.

He noted that, through such acquisitions as the local plant, National is diversifying to increase its financial-investment planning.

Close Competition by Two Tickets in Pontoon Voting

Intense competition is developing in the Village of Pontoon Beach, where two opposing tickets are vying for village offices in the municipal election, next Tuesday.

Data on village candidates and issues is presented on Pages 29 and 30 of today's Press-Record.

The offices of village president and clerk are to be filled along with three trustee posts; the terms of three other trustees have two more years to run.

Trustee candidates seek four-year terms next Tuesday.

Both the president and clerk offices will be filled for unexpired terms in which two years are remaining. Trustees Mackney (who was appointed by the board), Donald McNew and Fred Rector and President Otto Kreher.

Mrs. Mary Sturdivant, current village clerk by appointment, is running for that office on the People in Action Party.

FLOYD DAVID MOSS Improvement Party Goals

Policies and proposals of the Village Improvement Party were outlined in a campaign statement today.

Two parties are competing for village offices in the Pontoon Beach municipal election on Tuesday, April 17.

The statement was signed by Floyd David Moss, Village Improvement Party candidate for mayor (village president).

It was issued on behalf of Moss, Mrs. Corrine Kreher, Raymond L. Gaudette Jr., Paul Bennett and Donald C. Rea.

The statement related that "several weeks ago the Village Improvement Party candidate for mayor (village president) announced its campaign platform.

"It is our belief that the voters should be well informed as far in advance of the election as possible in order that they have the opportunity to study the issues and the candidates and arrive at their decision."

"We have provided a good, progressive course of action which we plan to place into effect immediately upon taking office."

"We have offered a five-point program for progress."

"1. Efficiency in government. This means that immediate action upon taking office will implement a complete study of all departments."

"Any department found to not be operating at maximum efficiency will be changed at once."

"We have announced our support of the purchase of the village hall, now being leased, if it is at all economically feasible."

"We believe that village government can operate more efficiently from a permanent base."

A planned program for permanent improvements will be given top priority, whichever of the two candidates receives the highest vote will be elected.

While there are ten candidates in the Granite City School Board election campaign, the bid for the two seats involves two candidates who are running as "rural" area candidates, and eight running as urban candidates.

Operations were running smoothly Sunday afternoon but the weather forecast made everyone apprehensive — rain turning to snow with high winds. Rain came Sunday night and as it diminished toward morning the wind arrived on schedule and greatly curtailed sand bag and rock progress on the levee.

There were mobile communications in the field and a mobile communications van situated on the bluffs at Fort Kaskaskia State Park beside the control communications at the

The retiring incumbent officials are backing the Village Improvement Party, which has Floyd David Moss as candidate for village president. His rival next Tuesday is Thomas Elliott, a member of the People in Action ticket.

Both parties filled full tickets but one of those on the ballot, Gilbert Yungler Jr., a People in Action trustee candidate, no longer lives here and is not seeking the office.

Elliott said Tuesday that charges by opponents that his party has sought to hide the ineligibility of Yungler are false.

Elliott said Yungler moved from Pontoon Beach March 17 to Gladstone, Mo., because of sudden death in Yungler's family.

Elliott said all of his party's workers were instructed at the time to tell village residents of Yungler's ineligibility because the deadline for removing his name from the ballot had passed.

Elliott also said he announced at a public rally Sunday at the Long Lake Volunteer Fire Hall.

No Venice Town Fund Tax Levy

By GARY SCHNEIDER
Press-Record Staff Writer

Venice Township will levy no taxes for town fund purposes this year as a $92,000 surplus in the town fund will be sufficient for township expenses, the town board of auditors agreed Tuesday afternoon.

The auditors also approved a decreased general assistance tax levy and an increased road and bridge tax levy. The Illinois Municipal Retirement Fund levy was retained at $10,250, the same as last year.

The levy for town purposes was decreased from $110,402 in the 1972-73 levy to $53,202 in the new levy. The town fund levy of $20,000 last year was eliminated and the levy for the general assistance fund was decreased from $80,352 last year to $74,952 for the new fiscal year.

An increase in the road and bridge fund levy from $24,910 last year to $27,735 for 1973-74 also was approved. The road and bridge levy, which is separate from the town levy, will reduce the savings to the taxpayer, but the overall rate for the town and road and bridge levies will decline from a total of $135,512 last year to $117,937 for 1973-74, a reduction of $17,575.

Despite the decrease in the town levies, the town fund budget of $117,937.

Mexican Commission Plans May 12 Fiesta

Plans for the annual May Fiesta and other special events were made at a meeting of the Mexican Honorary Commission of Granite City held this week at the Jaycee Clubhouse on Poplar Street.

Steve Ortiz, commission president, reported that two scholarships have been awarded and two $100 checks sent to recipients of previous financial grants as a result of a successful dance to benefit the fund in February.

The scholarship fund was established two years ago in memory of Joseph Gonzalez, a Granite City High School teacher and a commission member, who died of injuries suffered in an auto accident near Mitchell.

A brief memorial service was conducted by the Rev. Henry Mack, St. Joseph Church pastor and commission chaplain, in tribute to Elmer Z. Kozma, a member who died March 17.

Mrs. Olelia Anoff said rehearsals are in progress for the annual May fiesta variety show and public dance. The event will take place May 12.

Craig Nyers was named chairman of an Easter dance and plans were announced for the annual Easter egg hunt set Saturday, April 21.

The group voted to sponsor a tacos stand at the Jaycee Homecoming, June 14 through June 17. Among the chairmen appointed for the four-day celebration were Donald Valencia, Robert Robies and Otilio Valencia.

Also decided was participation in the Association for Protection of Animals' pet parade on Saturday, May 5.

Ortiz said a scoreboard, donated by Pepsi-Cola Bottlers, has been installed at the commission's baseball diamond by Bob Odum, Robert Short, Mike McGovern and Steve Ortiz Jr.

New uniforms for the Mexican Honorary soccer team were displayed by Coach Daniel Goldschmidt, and a donation of kitchen utensils and pitchers was acknowledged.

After the business session a social hour was enjoyed and games were played. Barbecue chicken was served to 54 members by the hostesses, Patty Mink, Ellen Valencia, Sue Wroten and Toni Odum.

MORE ABOUT Venice Fund

at approved Tuesday at $83,130, is an increase from the $80,110 budgeted last year. The new general assistance budget of $74,962, is lower than the $80,352 budgeted for 1972-73. The IMF budget is unchanged at $10,250.

The road and bridge budget shows an increase from $24,010 last year to $32,245 this year. Of that total, the township highway commissioner will receive one-half for maintenance of township roads and the other half will be divided between the Madison and Venice city street departments to maintain their roads.

One item budgeted last year, $15,000 for engineering work on a sanitary sewer system is not needed this year and was not included in the new budget or tax levy.

A proposed revenue sharing budget was presented to the board at the annual town meeting for endorsement. The $34,000 budget was presented as a courtesy to the electors as the determination on the spending of federal revenue sharing funds may be made solely by the town board without approval of township residents.

The budget proposed projects spending during the 1973-74 year of $4,200 in revenue sharing funds. The uses of remaining funds will be determined by auditors.

Of the revenue sharing funds budgeted, $20,000 was earmarked for the reassessment of property in the township, $10,000 was set aside for expenses of the collector's office, $1,500 was budgeted for the town board of auditors, $800 was appropriated for the township supervisor, $800 was apportioned for clerical services, and $1,200 or $100 per month, was tagged for attorney services related to the spending of revenue sharing.

"There is a question as to whether the collector's office expenses will be utilized as the 1970 state constitution prohibits the collector retaining a 2% fee on collections for his cost. No means for paying the collector was allowed."

To protect the township in the event the county treasurer should collect taxes again, as was done last year, the auditors passed a resolution barring the payment of any fees, pay or reimbursements to the county collector, in the event taxes are collected by any other individual or body.

At the annual meeting, the 26 electors present voted to increase the payment to the town supervisor and clerk from $16 per working day to $18 per working day, and increased the annual salary of the township attorney, Nick D. Vassileff, from $3,150 per year to $3,300 per year. The per diem pay for auditors and town officials was retained at $25 per meeting.

The electors authorized Christ Pashoff, town supervisor-elect, to prepare the 1974-75 budget during his term.

Thomas Foley, town clerk, complimented Arthur "Cooper" Moore, the present township supervisor, for his service.

"In 20 years of service, he left our town in very good financial shape and should be complimented," Foley said.

The electors stood and applauded and the auditors agreed to have Foley's remarks placed in the minutes of the meeting.

"I'd like to thank you all for the devotion and thank you all for attending," Moore said.

Moss this week responded to what he called "accusations by my opponent that the VIP party has destroyed People in Action party signs in the village."

Moss discussed a photograph in Monday's Press-Record which showed a damaged lawn sign. He said the hit-and-run driver who struck the sign probably did so accidentally as he lost control of the vehicle because the car also crossed the lawn at the home of Mike Dusky, 1 Lakeview Drive, and struck a village speed limit sign.

The vehicle missed Dusky's auto and a fire plug, both by inches, Moss said.

The president candidate also noted that the VIP offered a $100 reward April 5 for information leading to the conviction of persons damaging the signs of either party.

Mrs. Corrine Kreher, candidate for village clerk on the Village Improvement Party, issued a statement this week in response to charges she says have been made to village residents by the opposing party.

Stricter State Policy on Park Fund Requests

"I have recently learned that the People in Action Party is calling on voters and circulating the rumor that if elected I will resign immediately.

"The reason of this, they say, is that it will enable the Village Improvement Party to appoint a village clerk of their choice.

"Let me say this—I am seeking the office of clerk of Ponton Beach because I want to serve the village and work toward efficiency in government and for the ultimate benefit of the village as a whole.

"I believe I am thoroughly qualified to hold the office of village clerk through my experience in business and training.

"I want to assure voters that if elected, I have every intention of completing my full term of office. It would be utter nonsense to become a part of a political campaign and resign immediately upon being elected."

Dean said a meeting of the department's Conservation Advisory Board, which evaluates land and water conservation fund requests, will be held this month to draft the new criteria.

He said the department has set May 1 as the deadline for submission of projects for funding consideration from remaining fiscal 1973 land and water conservation monies.

Under the aid program, conducted by the Bureau of Outdoor Recreation of the U. S. Department of the Interior, local governments—cities, townships, counties, park districts—and the state share equally in federal funds made available each year to Illinois for park and recreation programs.

The conservation department is responsible for preliminary approval of local projects and for dispersing the local share of federal money after final approval by the BOR.

After the local-level agency completes and pays for the project, it is reimbursed by BOR for half the cost.

Until recently, most project applications were approved. Now, however, fund demands have exceeded the dollar supply by a wide margin, Dean explained.

Requests already on file, if approved, would obligate both the remaining fiscal 73 funds and all of the projected allocation for fiscal 1974, he said.

During its May meeting, the Conservation Advisory Board will make a final determination on which projects will receive the remaining 1973 L&WC funds. Its April session will be reserved solely for consideration of new approval guidelines.

clude appliances and transportation and agricultural products as substantial elements of its customer list.

Sinison reported that Midwest Steel, the firm's Chicago area finishing mill, underwent a major expansion in 1971-72.

Slab casting has been expanded at Great Lakes Steel in the Detroit area, and a new coke oven facility at Weirton Steel in the Pittsburgh area is to be completed June 1.

Record activity was experienced in the first quarter and there is no visible downturn on the horizon, it was indicated.

The agreement ruling out a nationwide steel strike in August 1974 will aid American steel-makers in avoiding the cyclical sales effect of stockpiling by customers, Sinison predicted.

Although steel imports continued at a high level during the first two months of 1974, there are signs that foreign steel producers no longer are as interested in making deep inroads into the U. S. market, it was noted.

Factors are thought to include the dollar devaluation and a stronger demand for steel in other parts of the world.

Although there is some stockpiling at present, nearly all of the current high volume of steel production is for customers' immediate needs, Sinison said.

He was accompanied to the meeting by other executives, including William S. Schwoebel, senior vice president-in-charge of National Steel; Nicholas P. Veeder, a National Steel director and chairman of Granite City Steel Co.; and Howard M. "Pete" Love, president of both Granite City Steel Co. and the Midwest Steel Division.

Lillian Green, a Granite City Steel Co. economist and executive, introduced Sinison.

"5. Public participation in village affairs. We have pledged that during our administration we will always maintain an open door policy—and we will invite the opinions or complaints about the conduct of village affairs.

"We, to the best of our knowledge and ability, will handle village affairs with open-minded fairness.

"In addition to our five-point program for progress, we announced that the residents of Quiet Valley Subdivision were paying a water tax that could not be levied legally against the rest of the village.

"We stated that we believed this tax was discriminatory and should be repealed.

"We are pleased that—even without us being elected as yet—the village board when advised of this tax acted promptly to repeal it. This is only our first accomplishment.

"We have also announced that we will conduct a fair, clean campaign.

"We will not resort to dirty politics and charges against our opposition in order to be elected.

"We want this election to accomplish better government and improvements in the village.

"We hope it will not be necessary for us to have to defend ourselves against a mud-slinging campaign. The issues are too important to become buried beneath a pile of 'garbage'.

"Since we first publicly announced our campaign program, we have been accused of telling the voters what they want to hear, and insinuations have been made that our campaign program is based in 'politics'.

"Maybe telling the voters what they want to hear is true because we, too, are voters, and we, too, want to hear these things that we have stated.

"Only, we want to carry it one step further. We are tired of many of these conditions and want to do something to correct them.

"The Village Improvement Party has brought the campaign to the people and we believe the voters to be intelligent enough to make a sound decision to vote for those who have a plan for better village government.

AUTOS IN ACCIDENT

Autos driven by David T. Roter, 3945 Village Lane, and Winston Williams, 4000 Gaslight Walk, were in an accident at 7:55 p.m. Wednesday at Maryville and Pontoon roads.

Shrubs, Fruit Crops Damaged By Late Freeze

The freezing weather of Monday and Tuesday destroyed the flowers of shrubs that were in bloom. High winds complicated their survival because the chill factor and wind whipping off frosted foliage produced a burned appearance of exposed plants.

Relatively even temperatures and cloudy cool weather could prevent sunburn injury until the plants recover. Low temperatures hit 26 and 27 degrees throughout this region, well below the critical 28-30 degree temperatures for survival.

Chris Doll, area adviser on fruits and vegetables, reports that home orchard fruit crops will be severely damaged, or completely frozen out, except for apples.

There does not appear to be serious injury to the woody twigs or permanent structure of flowering and fruiting trees or ornamental shrubs. New growth will gradually replace the damaged spring growth.

"Do not prune your trees or shrubs to remove injured foliage. I expect new growth will develop from the woody twigs within 10 to 14 days," Doll said.

"After new growth is clearly evident, prune off dead twigs or branch tips to the second or third shoot from the tip.

"If individual plants show considerable dying-back of twigs and small limbs, you can expect more problems with borers.

"Where extensive spring injury occurs to twigs, the large branches and lower trunk often develop numerous minute cracks. These cracks are ideal for tree borers to get into the tree and eventually kill or cripple individual trees.

"If you see this type of injury on selected trees, spray the trunk at monthly intervals from mid-May until August with Cygon or spray every two weeks with Malathion," Doll advised.

Man Threatened by Driver With Gun

Dan Beard, 3921 Gaslight Walk, reported at 7:25 p.m. Wednesday that he was threatened by a man with a small handgun which was placed at his neck at 7:30 p.m. Wednesday at Nameoka Road and Madison Avenue.

Beard said that he and the assailant, who used indecent language, had been in a traffic dispute at Johnson Road and was followed to the high school where he was stopped. His auto driven by the assailant was reported to be stolen from St. Louis.

SIUE Women To Play Ball

Women's intercollegiate softball will begin Monday at Southern Illinois University at Edwardsville when the Cougars take on Lindenwood College, St. Charles, Mo. Game time is 4:30 p.m. at St. Charles. According to Ellen Supplington, women's softball coach, the Cougars have looked good in practice sessions, especially in batting and pitching.

"All of the schools on our schedule will be playing a 'slow pitch' game, which makes the game a hitter's game instead of the traditional batter's game," Miss Supplington said.

All home games will be played at the new women's softball diamond on Bluff Road on the SIUE campus.

Following the open against Lindenwood, the team will play at home against Principia College at 4 p.m. April 18. Fighting Warriors Honored At GCHS Athletic Banquet

(Pictures on Page 35)

By WALTER STRANGE
Press-Record Staff Writer

Will the Civil War of the 1860s carry over into the Granite City school system with the designation of the two high schools as North and South?

From comments made by the five coaches at the athletic award banquet held at the Granite City High School cafeteria Tuesday evening, it appears that a spirited but friendly rivalry between the "Yankee" Stealers and the "Rebel" Warriors is beginning to take shape.

A general atmosphere of good sportsmanship and constructive competition prevailed as more than 400 players, parents, coaches and fans crowded the cafeteria to honor the athletes. Principal James Dumont acted as master of ceremonies and said in his opening remarks that each of the five varsity coaches would limit his remarks to 15 minutes.

Wrestling Coach William "Red" Schmitt later presented a "Windy Bag" award to football coach Wayne Williams, who according to Schmitt talked for 27 minutes.

Schmitt got the award back from Williams when he exceeded the prescribed time limit and talked 30 minutes.

Williams presented Jon Stagner with both the most valuable back and most valuable player awards. The Chris Marovsky award for the outstanding grid sophomores went to Tom Schooley. Brad Hiles received the most valuable lineman award plus the scholar athlete award.

Funny Cars, Record Runs Sunday at Drags

Funny car competition between the "Drag On Vega" of Mart Higgenbotham and Sien and Langford racing team's "Brand-X Mustang" will highlight events Sunday at St. Louis International Raceway south of Madison.

The funny cars will be among about 300 cars of all classes attempting to break American Hot Rod Association national records. The AHRA provides only specified events at which the records may be broken. This will be the first official record day here and several are expected to fall.

Runs throughout the day will be counted toward the records, including time trial and qualifying rounds. Cars which break the records will be inspected and if necessary dismantled by AHRA personnel to assure they meet specifications of the classes in which they set the records.

Last week, records in several classes were broken, including the Formula 1 Hot Rod class where the "Blood, Sweat and Tears" car shaved one-tenth of a second from the record in its class. The team will attempt to repeat the performance for an official record this week, it has been indicated.

Highlighting last week's program was competition between Bob Perry's "Hell on Wheels" wheel-standing tank and the "Little Red Wagon" wheel-standing truck of Bill "Maverick" Golden. Golden, acclaimed as "King of the Wheel-Standers," retained his crown as he defeated the tank in two consecutive runs.

The plastic-bodied tank left before the green light and crossed the center line during its first run and was automatically disqualified. The second run, Golden covered the quarter-mile on two wheels in 12.43 seconds, reaching a speed of 102 miles per hour to down the tanks 13-second run.

300 Posters Entered in Posture Contest

Hundreds of youngsters in fifth and sixth grade classes from school districts in the southern part of Illinois joined others in the same grade levels across the state this month in the annual "Posture Poster Contest," arranged by the Illinois Chiropractic Society.

The event traditionally is held in conjunction with National Correct Posture Week, sponsored by the American Chiropractic Association. The observance takes place from May 1 to May 7.

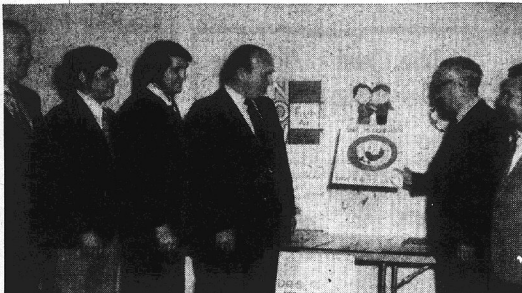

Children entered the contest at their individual school with local winners determined by their teachers or judging panels and submitted to Dr. E. W. Walton of Granite City, state chairman of the Posture Poster Contest.

The top four posters from school systems outside the Quad-Cities were forwarded here to be judged along with those entered by local public and parochial pupils, Dr. Walton explained.

The colorful posters were displayed this week for local Chiropractic Society members at the Tri-Cities Area YMCA. They are to be evaluated by a panel of local judges, Dr. Walton said.

Four regional winners will be chosen and their entries will advance to the state level to be judged during National Correct Posture Week in Chicago, Dr. Walton explained.

The top state winner receives a $100 U. S. Savings Bond and the child's school is awarded a winning entry. Art supervisors or

Disturbances at Detention Home Result in Injuries

Need for Foster Homes Is Cited

The director of the state Department of Children and Family Services on Monday appealed to Illinois foster parents to support efforts to reform the state child welfare system.

Terome G. Miller said help of the state's 13,000 licensed foster parents is crucial to success of department efforts to avoid unnecessary institutionalization of neglected and abused children.

He said foster parents will play a vital role in the department's plan to bring back to Illinois 800 children who have been placed in institutions as far away as Texas.

Miller spoke at a Chicago news conference kicking off "National Action for Foster Children Week" in Illinois.

Also participating in the conference were Sen. Philip Rock (D-Chicago) and Phil Jarmack, regional director of the Office of Child Development, U. S. Department of Health, Education and Welfare.

"It just doesn't make sense to slash kids in institutions a thousand miles away when we can develop plans for their care right here at home," Miller said.

"Not only are the youngsters uprooted from all that is familiar to them, but it is extremely difficult to monitor the kind of care they receive out-of-state," he said.

Miller said many of the children placed in out-of-state institutions can be cared for by skilled foster parents.

He estimated that at least 100 "specialized" foster homes will be needed by the department and private agencies to care for children being returned to the Chicago area from out-of-state.

Miller also called on foster parents to support legislation the department has drafted to amend the Juvenile Court Act.

A bill will be introduced soon in the Illinois Senate making parental failure to improve the home situation within two years grounds for termination of parental rights when children have been placed outside the home following a court finding of neglect.

"This legislation is not an attack on rights of parents," Miller emphasized. "It is a defense of the rights of children."

Five kids, ages five, ten, even 15 years in foster care, they cannot go home. Not because they are adopted. They endure mental torture because society retains unrealistic hopes of rehabilitating parents. We hope to change that," Miller concluded.

Emphasis is being placed on the urgent need for more foster families to care for adolescents — teenage girls and boys of all races.

Persons interested in becoming foster parents may call the voluntary agency of their choice or the nearest district office of the State of Illinois, Department of Children and Family Services.

Two nights of disturbances at the Madison County Juvenile Detention Home Monday and Tuesday resulted in a fight between youth workers and the inmates which caused injuries to two workers.

Harry Hartman, the son of Granite City attorney Harry E. Hartman, was treated Tuesday evening at St. Elizabeth Hospital after he was struck in an eye by an inmate. Another youth worker, Gary Pointer, suffered a blow to his head but did not require hospital treatment.

There have been five instances of serious disturbances at the home since March 1. Harry Thiel, chief probation officer at the center, said yesterday.

Monday's trouble started when a worker was called from the control room of the center to answer the girls' wing to answer a question. He left another worker alone in the control room. An escape attempt then began.

Four inmates, 15 and 16 years of age, asked the worker to open the control room door to answer a question concerning recreation time. When he opened the door, the youths grabbed him and a scuffle for a set of keys ensued.

During the scuffle, the worker managed to set off a fire alarm which called other workers to the scene. The inmates were returned to their rooms by the youth workers.

Charges are pending against four of the seven occupants of the Pink Wing of the home in connection with the incident, Thiel said.

After the youths were returned to their rooms, three windows between the rooms and the corridor were broken. Tuesday night's disturbance took place in the Green Wing, adjacent to the area where trouble broke out the previous night.

A struggle reportedly started between three staff members and an unruly youngster. Another inmate reportedly jumped into the struggle, the Pointer on the back of the neck and struck Hartman.

Thiel credits recent problems at the center on the fact that emotionally disturbed youngsters are being sent to the detention home rather than being cared for by mental health authorities.

He said overcrowding is a problem at the home was designed for 21 inmates and d presently houses 23.

He credited Monday's disturbance a "plot" in that one worker was called from the control room to another area before the trouble started. He said most problems at the home, including Tuesday's incident, are caused by "temper tantrums."

Paraders will assemble at Civic Park in the 1300 block of Niedringhaus Avenue at 11:30 a.m. May 5. The parade will get under way promptly at noon. Qualified judges will inspect the pets for good grooming, features and control. Mrs. Dickey reported.

Among those agreeing to participate so far are a musicians' group from Madison, "Santa Claus" amburitzas play, and civic officials.

Any child may enter a pet in the parade or the contest to follow at Wilson Park, Mrs. Dickey said. She pointed out that paraders with cats are asked to take their animals directly to the judging area at Wilson Park, rather than walk with their pets along the parade route.

Organizations and business firms are invited to enter floats. Additional information may be obtained by calling Mrs. Dickey at 797-0193.

Two nights of disturbances at the Madison County Juvenile Detention Home Monday and Tuesday resulted in a fight between youth workers and the inmates which caused injuries to two workers.

Harry Hartman, the son of Granite City attorney Harry E. Hartman, was treated Tuesday evening at St. Elizabeth Hospital after he was struck in an eye by an inmate. Another youth worker, Gary Pointer, suffered a blow to his head but did not require hospital treatment.

There have been five instances of serious disturbances at the home since March 1. Harry Thiel, chief probation officer at the center, said yesterday.

2nd Annual Pet Parade May 5th in Downtown GC

The second annual "Pet Parade and Contest," sponsored by the Quid-City Association for the Protection of Animals, will take place Saturday, May 5 in downtown Granite City, it was announced this week.

The event proved highly successful last spring resulting in the APA's decision to continue the program this year, according to Mrs. Pam Kickey, parade marshal.

Any child may enter a pet in the parade or the contest to follow at Wilson Park, Mrs. Dickey said. She pointed out that paraders with cats are asked to take their animals directly to the judging area at Wilson Park, rather than walk with their pets along the parade route.

Organizations and business firms are invited to enter floats. Additional information may be obtained by calling Mrs. Dickey at 797-0193.

Most entrants in the initial parade were accompanied by parade. However, horses were entered, together with rabbits (in cages) and other small animals, Mrs. Dickey said.

All pets must be under firm control at all times and are required to be leashed if not in some type of confined area, she explained. Cages will be provided in the judging area.

Prizes and ribbons will be awarded and youthful paraders may take part in costume if they wish, the parade organizer said.

Among those agreeing to participate so far are a musicians' group from Madison, "Santa Claus" amburitzas play, and civic officials.

Paraders will assemble at Civic Park in the 1300 block of Niedringhaus Avenue at 11:30 a.m. May 5. The parade will get under way promptly at noon. Qualified judges will inspect the pets for good grooming, features and control. Mrs. Dickey reported.

Record Industry Follows Clothes Fashion Trends

By JUDY HUGG
Copley News Service

The recording industry seems to run on trends and fads, much like the fashion world. For example, one year it was mini-skirts and short rock songs; next it was long-long skirts and singles that ran for five minutes; next way-out spacey clothes accompanied the out-of-sight, high-flying space-rock.

Now with clothing dating back into the early ages, the recording companies and artists are releasing albums that have long since been locked in the vaults.

One such LP is the Allman Brothers compilation of their first two records called "Beginnings" on A&M Records. The two-record set features some of the original members of the band which included Duane and Gregg Allman, Dickey Betts, Berry Oakley, Butch Trucks and Jai Johanny Johanson.

The album captures some of the finest moments by the group, back when Duane and Dickey would dual with their guitars and almost blow you off your seat. This is accompanied by Butch and Jai's double thunder of drumming, which bounces you from one side of the room to the other. However, Gregg's keyboard work, which serves as both a lead and rhythm instrument, along with Berry's bass tend to put everything into its proper perspective and creates a fantastic combination of sounds.

Although noted for their lengthy cuts, some running as long as 20 minutes, the band has kept all but the spacey "Dreams I'll Never See," which runs 7 minutes, at 5 minutes and under. Among the 14 cuts are "Whipping Post," a blues original called "It's Not My Cross To Bear," the acoustic guitar "Revival," "Midnight Rider" and "In Memory of Elizabeth Reed."

It's a perfect touch of the blues which will add class to your record collection.

"Music Is My Life" is the title of Billy Preston's latest album for A&M Records. Preston had a hand in composing all the cuts except the Beatles' "Blackbird."

The LP has definite ups and downs, evident when you turn the record from side to side. The first side has that fast boogie shuffle, which he is noted for, and is used on "We're Gonna Make It" and "One Time or Another," as well as a good, bluesy "I Wonder Why," which is emphasized by a powerful rhythm and bass beat. "Blackbird" and "Will It Go Round in Circles" are also creditable performances.

Side two is sort of a rock dedication to God. Preston shares his philosophies and his faith through his music. While they are part of a good performer, side two gets too heavy for most, unless you're a super Jesus person.

The Steve Miller Band gives you your money's worth of selected rock in their latest Capitol release, "Anthology." Steve Miller picked the songs for the two-record set from the best of the bands efforts during the span of 1968-72. The list of attending musicians resembles a performance card for an all-day rock concert.

Listen to Boz Scaggs, Nicky Hopkins, Paul McCartney, Lee Michaels, Tim Davis, and Lonnie Turner, just to name a few. All lend Miller a hand in putting together some fine music. In Miller's own words, "Anthology" is what I always wanted to make — two good LPs that'll hold up. This is the first consistently good album I've ever made."

It's sort of like a plant—the leaves, stems and blossoms are all nice, but you appreciate the flowers the most. Miller has weeded out everything but the tops of his efforts, and offers you a bouquet of his best in "Anthology."

On the classical side: "Entrepreneur A La Française" Columbia MS3070. This is Philippe Entremont sending you a musical postcard from Paris. Gay music with an occasional touch of sadness as the pianist ranges over compositions by Ravel, Debussy, Chabrier, Satie, Faure and Poulenc. If you're off to Europe this summer, this LP will introduce you to the mood of France.

"Dvorak Piano Quartet In E-Flat" Arthur Rubinstein and the Guarneri Quartet, RCA-LSC-3340. Piano and strings with a difference as Antonin Dvorak composes for all four instruments instead of the usual Pong game between strings and keyboard. The result is a rich blend of musical magic built around Dvorak's beloved gypsy-like dance tunes.

Arrested on Charge of Falsifying Tax Forms

William H. Williams, 29, East St. Louis, was arrested Tuesday by special agents of the Internal Revenue Service on a complaint charging him with aiding and assisting in the preparation of false and fraudulent income tax returns.

Williams was taken before United States Magistrate Robert Schneider, Belleville, where he was released on a $1,000 recognizance bond.

MR. AND MRS. KEVIN E. KIELTY. The bride is the former Miss Verna Wickham, a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Donald H. Wickham, 13 Briarcliff Drive. They were married at Hope Lutheran Church.

Hope Lutheran Scene of Kielty-Wickham Wedding

The wedding of Miss Verna Wickham, a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Donald H. Wickham, 13 Briarcliff Drive, and Kevin E. Kielty, son of Mrs. James Kielty, 3278 Franklin Ave., was solemnized March 24 at Hope Lutheran Church.

Officiating at the 7 p.m. double ring service was the Rev. Louis Oetting before an altar banked with floral arrangements and illuminated by lighted tapers in branched candelabra.

For her wedding, the bride chose a full-length gown of white satin, designed with fitted bodice, featuring a high neckline and long sleeves. Pastel pink ribbon inserted in delicate lace accented the yoke of the dress and sleeves and created a vertical pattern on the skirt and chapel-length train.

A lace petal headpiece secured the bride's shoulder-length veil and she carried a bouquet of white carnations tinted pink.

Miss Deborah Jones, maid of honor and Mrs. Barbara Freeman and Mrs. Jacqueline Thiele, bridesmaids, were groomed in pale pink dresses made with long sleeves set into molded bodices and stand up collars.

A dark pink floral braid etched with embroidered green leaves trimmed the necklines, sleeves and skirts of their dresses. Each attended to a white chrysanthemum edged in pink.

The groom chose Dennis Farrance as his best man, Richard Justice, Rodney Bailey, Paul Jones and Thomas Harmon completed the corps of groomsmen and ushers.

After the evening ceremony a reception was held in the Hope Lutheran Fellowship Hall. Both are graduates of Granite City High School. The bride is employed at the International House of Pancakes and her husband works at the Granite City Store in Namsoki Village Shopping Center.

The newly married couple is residing in Granite City.

Both choral groups will provide special music during the worship and the 1923 St. Peter's confirmation class will be honored on the group's 50th anniversary. The pastor will deliver the sermon topic — "Behold the Son of David."

Members of the golden anniversary confirmation class include — Mrs. Esther Ruth Zimmer, Mrs. Dorothy Geroff, Mrs. Mildred Slattery, Edgar Peach, Wilfred Hoelscher and George Slay. Two class members, Harold Nienert and Mildred Gehlert, are deceased and two other members, Mary Charlotte Jones and Frederick Logan Schmidt, were unable to be located, the minister said.

Holy Week services will continue on Maundy Thursday with a 7:30 p.m. service of Holy Communion. The Order of Tene-

"People Pleasers" For 59 Years!!

Since 1914, when C. W. Pershall opened the first TRI-CITY GROCERY store in Granite City, we've been firm believers in good, old-fashioned, home-spun neighborliness. We have successfully operated a supermarket chain in the greater metropolitan St. Louis area for the past 59 years... We're not magicians, just plain food merchants. We can't pull rabbits out of a hat, and give them away. We can, however, by working a little harder, keeping abreast of markets... taking a smaller profit, offer our customers their food needs at a much lower price... This, by the way, was the philosophy of C. W. Pershall back in 1914... and it's still a good one... and... we intend to stick to it...

Rail Safety Standards Set In Vadalabene Legislation

Springfield — "It takes something spectacular like a wreck to remind us, but rail safety is one of our most urgent day to day needs," Senator Sam M. Vadalabene said Tuesday in introducing legislation to establish minimum standards in that area. Vadalabene's proposal, Senate Bill 509, would deal with track, road beds, track curvatures, track elevation and inspection procedures.

"Recently we heard of new trains between St. Louis and Chicago for AMTRAK that would travel at speeds of 180 miles per hour," Vadalabene said. "We have to be ready for this progress or it could quickly turn into tragedy."

Abortion Issue in Illinois Remains a Conflicting Maze Of Viewpoints and Policies

By JOAN MURARO
Copley News Service

Springfield — Despite recent Supreme Court action which cleared the way for legal abortions in Illinois, the entire abortion issue remains a huge maze of conflicting decisions and proposals in the state.

While Illinois statute books still contain a law which forbids abortion in nearly all cases, it has been invalidated by the Supreme Court ruling which in effect puts the decision entirely in the hands of the pregnant woman and her doctor.

But, who performs the abortion? A number of professional groups and interested individuals have rushed into the void with suggestions, recommendations or proposed legislation.

Dr. Joyce Lashof, acting director of the state department of public health, has urged that abortions at any stage be performed only by physicians licensed to practice in Illinois.

She recommends that doctors performing them have written, enforce transfer agreements or affiliations with a licensed hospital, and that abortions in the second trimester (second three-month period of pregnancy) be performed only on an inpatient basis in a hospital.

The state medical society has gone on record urging a 48-hour waiting period before abortions, and asking that "appropriate consent" be given.

What is meant by "appropriate consent" is not defined, but the society's recommendation raises the question of the rights of the husband, and notes further that Illinois law already forbids any non-emergency surgery on a minor without parental consent.

Almost inevitably, some court will probably be asked to rule on a motion by some teenager that an abortion, in her case, is emergency surgery.

The attorney general's office has already issued an opinion in cases of adoption that, wherever possible, the father must be notified of pending adoption (even of an illegitimate child) and must waive his rights before adoption can be finalized.

A spokesman in the attorney general's office says only a court ruling presumably can determine if a similar situation prevails regarding a father's interest in the life of his unborn child.

By ruling that only the mother and doctor have authority to determine if an unborn child is to be aborted or to live, the court ignored arguments that the fetus has human right to life, and appears to have denied that it has rights of its own at that stage.

But an Illinois court has also ruled that the state department of public aid must pay a pregnant woman who is on welfare additional living allowances, such as food, clothing, shelter and even detergent requirements, for her unborn child from the time a doctor certifies she is pregnant.

This suggests that to the public aid department, at least, the unborn fetus is legally an entity with rights from nearly the moment of conception.

As the confusion continues, abortion clinics and hospitals in Illinois cities such as Chicago report they are "swamped" with requests.

And such agencies as Blue Cross, the University of Illinois student health program and the department of public aid have all announced they will pay abortion costs as normal policy.

Bill To Appoint Levee Trustees Due in House

Legislation under which the governor would appoint the five members of the old East Side Levee and Sanitary District was to be submitted to the Illinois House in Springfield today.

The bill was prepared by State Rep. Celeste Stiehl (R-Belleview). Under present legislation, the levee board members are elected to four-year terms.

Mrs. Stiehl said that while the levee board members are elected to four-year terms, she feels that as many public offices as possible should be filled by election, she believes that a "radical approach" should be used in dealing with administration of the levee district.

Her proposal would require the governor to appoint the five levee board members after expiration of the present terms of the levee trustees elected last November. The bill would become effective in 1977 and would permit the appointment of the five board members — staggered five-year terms.

Romel Wilbon, president of the board, attacked the proposal as a "gestapo tactic" that would not permit the people to have a vote. "It would be like the President appointing members of Congress," Wilbon said.

Foil Called Useful In Insulating Basement

By GENE GARY
Copley News Service

Q. I am planning on paneling my basement and want to use insulation between the joists. I have found that the best insulation is foil-faced fiberglass, but have been unable to find any insulation material that thin.

The only thing I have found is a sheet called "styrenefoam," which I would have to split. I would like to know where to find insulation for this job. My walls are concrete block.

Paul I. A. The purpose of the insulation in the basement is to keep out moisture.

For this purpose, heavy grade aluminum foil or "four mil" polyethylene plastic, fastened to the furring strips, could be used.

Where paneling is installed on below grade areas, care should be taken to eliminate all dampness on concrete surfaces.

An effective step is to waterproof the interior of the outside basement walls.

Q. Peeling paint? I know you have had this question before, but can you give me a repeat on the instructions.

Much of the oil paint on the outside of my house is peeling. The paint salesman suggested I use latex paint next time for better results. Do you agree?

— E.L.P. A. Latex paint over the oil paint will continue to peel, in spite of what the paint salesman says.

However, he is right if you remove all the paint now on the house down to the bare wood, then apply a special primer with two or more coats of exterior latex. Then you may get better results.

Q. We are building a house with a crawl space underneath the floor.

We have it vented with vents on the outside walls.

To provide more ventilation to keep the crawl space dry, I have been thinking about running three-inch vent pipes between the two-by-four partitions from the crawl space to the attic. It is a one-story ranch-style house.

Do you think this would help keep the crawl space dry?

— Mrs. Charles J. A. Before the effectiveness of ground cover was known, such as plastic sheeting, large ventilation openings were needed to permit escape of moisture.

However, with good ground cover, much less ventilation is required and the vents can be closed during winter so that the house is easier to keep warm.

The ground cover should consist of heavy polyethylene, which is a plastic sheeting, or 55-pound rolled roofing paper.

The vents should provide cross ventilation, but vent pipes up through the attic should not be necessary.

Q. What is the best thing for moisture-proofing a concrete floor?

The gravel and cement are already down, but there is no sealer between the cement and gravel.

I need something to keep moisture from the carpet we are laying. Also, what kind of carpet would be the best for living quarters?

— William D. A. There are several concrete sealers on the market which will help control moisture for on or below grade floors.

Indoor-outdoor type carpeting would be a good choice. However, if another kind of carpeting is preferred, it should be installed with foam rubber padding.

Consult your masonry dealers, marine supply dealers or large paint stores for a recommended concrete sealer.

Absentee Deadline

Deadline for voting an absentee ballot in person in the Granite City Park Board election next Tuesday will be 7:30 p.m. Friday, according to Park Board Secretary Frank R. He said he will accept absentee ballots in person at his store, 1304 Niedringhaus Ave.

THEFT FROM CARPORT

A minibus, two car wheels and tires, and a dog were stolen from the carport of the home of Glen Wittling, 225 Miracle Ave., it was reported at 7:30 p.m. yesterday. The dog, later was caught by a Granite City humane officer and was returned to Wittling, it was reported.

COLLIDE ON ISLAND

A Chouteau Township truck, driven by John Dial, 545 Maryville Road, and the auto of John Allen, Rural Route One, Box 126, collided on Chouteau Island near Emerald Lake about 8:30 p.m. yesterday.

Congressmen Will Pay More for 'Free' Mail

By BENJAMIN SHORE
Copley News Service

Washington—Congress is faced with whopping cost increases for its "free" mail privilege as a result of the U. S. Postal Service insisting on full payment for delivering the franked mail.

Based on a brand new system of calculating the amount of franked mail flowing from Capitol Hill, the Postal Service has projected the fiscal 1974 cost at $35.7 million.

The projected cost for fiscal 1973, which ends June 30, is $24.4 million.

The new system of measuring the amount of franked mail went into effect as of January, thus making the projected fiscal 1973 cost a combination of the old and new measuring systems.

Congress paid $21.6 million to the Postal Service for fiscal 1972, although the original estimate had been for $18 million. The fiscal 1971 cost was $14.6 million.

By comparison, the cost for delivering representatives' and senators' official mail in fiscal 1963 was $4.7 million. Ten years later, the projection is for $24.4 million.

Rising postal rates and increased usage of the frank account for most of the increase.

The Postal Service, which took over the nation's mail system in July 1971, is insisting that Congress, like a corporation, pay the going rate for service.

The former Post Office Department was a politically oriented government operation, and only a cursory effort was made to bill the Congress for actual service.

This contributed to chronic deficits in the department, postal officials say.

But Congress is not complaining, for unlike a corporation, it simply appropriates from tax revenues whatever is necessary to pay the bill.

Key to the billing process will be a new system of accurately accounting for all franked mail. The current practice is to weigh the sacks of mail as they leave Capitol Hill.

A formula, constantly revised by sampling the sacks, is then used to determine how many pieces of mail are being carried.

Congress has been billed 8 cents per piece, regardless of the weight.

Actual counting of sampled sacks indicates that congressional mail runs about 44 letters per pound. That figures out to slightly more than one-third ounce per letter.

Under the new system, the procedure for weighing franked mail will be tightened up for a more accurate measurement, and Congress will be billed 8 cents per ounce for the first class service that a franked letter gets.

"Just like everyone else," commented a postal official.

Congressmen may not send franked letters by airmail without paying full airmail postage.

An allowance for buying air-mail stamps comes out of another Congressional fund.

Governor's Office To Be Opened May 1 at Marion

A Southern Illinois governor's office, responsible for coordinating services from all state agencies and assisting in state planning efforts in the area, will be opened May 1 in the Marion Regional Office Building.

The Southern Illinois office is the first such office of its kind to be opened in the state.

The Marion office also will open branch offices in other Southern Illinois communities. The sites for these satellite offices have not yet been named.

The Southern Illinois offices will institute an information-referral-follow-up service, act as an ombudsman for area residents and initiate interagency liaison on area problems.

The office will also provide planning assistance to local governments and citizens groups and provide impetus for economic development projects.

The Southern Illinois offices will be staffed by personnel from the Governor's Office of Human Resources, augmented by volunteers from local colleges and universities. Gov. Walker said:

"It is asking too much of people to travel hundreds of miles to reach the seat of government in Springfield. Government must reach out to meet people. That is why we are opening a citizen's inquiry office in Marion, the heart of Southern Illinois."

"I saw first hand how alienated people are; they feel, with some justification, that government doesn't care. I want people to know that government does care, that I care."

"I pledged in my campaign that I would make every effort to make the people of Southern Illinois feel they are part of the state. The governor's office of inquiry is a step in that direction."

"But most important, it will give the people a real opportunity to make their voices heard in state government, and to get answers to their problems."

Rift Between Gov. Walker, Sen. Stevenson

Copley News Service

Springfield — What's going on between Stevenson and Walker? Speculation about a possible rift was fueled by disclosure that William Flanagan, a fixture in the Stevenson political family for two generations, is leaving the staff of U. S. Sen. Adlai E. Stevenson III to join Gov. Dan Walker.

Norion Kay, Walker's press secretary, is explaining only that Flanagan will work in the State Department of Transportation, probably at Chicago.

What most intrigues Statehouse strategists is the awareness that while Flanagan's expertise on Illinois transportation matters is limited to how best to get from Chicago to Springfield, he does know about as well as anyone how to win an election in this state.

That Stevenson would let him go in the face of an upcoming election that could be tough strikes some as approaching the incredible.

From the Flanagan standpoint, there is the matter of family loyalty. Flanagan, a one-time Chicago newspaper reporter, rose to prominence on the political fortunes of the late Adlai E. Stevenson II.

Back in 1952, Springfield correspondents credited Flanagan's brilliant public relations work as being a major factor in achieving the first Presidential nomination for the governor.

Flanagan in more recent times has played important roles in Adlai III's successful run for state treasurer and U. S. senator.

Next year, Stevenson, although an early bird favorite for re-election, nevertheless is expected to face a serious challenge from one of two Republican contenders—Donald Rumsfeld, currently U. S. ambassador to the North Atlantic Treaty Organization, or Congressman John Anderson of Rockford.

There is a feeling that Stevenson will need a strong publicity effort to convince many doubtful voters that he has accomplished anything of importance during his three years in the Senate.

His record could suffer in comparison with that of Illinois' other senator, Republican Charles H. Percy, generally recognized as one of the more productive members of the Senate.

Because Flanagan's recognized talents and experience would be so valuable, political watchers are convinced that the break with Stevenson must have resulted from strong and deep influences.

The fact that Flanagan has hooked up with Walker strengthens the rift theory. Relations between Walker and Stevenson have been cool ever since the former challenged a Stevenson ally, former Lt. Gov. Paul Simon, in the 1972 gubernatorial primary.

They have improved little since, with Adlai reported annoyed by Walker's "self-righteous pose" and his persistent verbal dismissal of all elected officials before him as "self-serving politicians."

Nobody at the Capitol thinks Walker hired Flanagan as a favor to Stevenson.

If anything, Flanagan was welcomed into the Walker camp as a slap at Adlai.

Whatever the real reasons behind the switch, it is another big boost to growing GOP confidence that there is at least a fair chance of beating Stevenson in 1974. Dissension in the other party always helps.

Chouteau Town Electors Defeat Extra Road Tax

A proposition to levy a special tax for a special hard road fund in Chouteau Township was defeated Tuesday night by electors attending the annual town meeting in Sun n' Fun resort.

It was the third consecutive year in which township residents have defeated the proposition. If approved the proposal would establish an additional tax of 16.7 cents per $100 assessed valuation for a five-year period.

The vote on the proposition was 110 against and 79 in favor, with three spoiled ballots. Serving as judges for the vote on the proposition were Wanda Katzman, Myrre Stearns and Evelyn Swinney.

A total of 193 electors attended the meeting at which Clifford Losch of South Roxana served as moderator.

The annual report of Supervisor Walter Sparks was approved during the meeting. The report showed the township ended its 1972-73 fiscal year with a balance of $6,159 in the town fund, $10,000 in the general assistance fund and $2,381 in the road and bridge fund.

The meeting discussed progress on the four-township sewer construction program in which Chouteau Township is a participant, and discussed use of federal revenue sharing funds.

Town officials noted that the township's revenue sharing fund, which amounts to $26,800, will be used solely for capitol development programs.

Special Census Underway in City of Venice

A special census of social and economic statistics was begun yesterday in Venice which was selected as one of 100 cities in which such censuses will be made this year by the U. S. Department of Commerce, Bureau of the Census, at Washington.

Survey workers are operating out of the Park District Community Center under the supervision of Mrs. Ada Knusmann of Fairview Heights, and Mrs. Lorraine Foley, St. Louis.

William "Mike" Ebersold, Venice city clerk, said the purpose of the census is to develop procedures which may be used in the future as the basis and evaluate population estimates for updating population and per capita income data for use in connection with federal revenue sharing legislation.

Contents of the census will be limited to items on age, race, sex, relationship, education and income.

Census takers will be properly identified by Census Bureau badges, Ebersold said. Return trips will be made to homes where no one is at home upon the census taker's first call. Tabulation of the results is expected to be completed and certified to Venice city officials by October.

The project is expected to be completed within ten days to two weeks.

Boy Runs Into Street, Hit by Auto, Injured

Ronnie Liggitt, 12, of 1739 Edison Ave., was injured when he was struck by an auto driven by Eugene W. DeRouler, 2645 Center St., as he was running across the street at 18th Street and Edison Avenue at 4:05 p.m. Tuesday.

He was taken to St. Elizabeth Hospital with abrasions to the right side of the chest, left elbow, left ankle and left wrist and with pains to the right leg and was transferred to Cardinal Glennon Memorial Hospital, St. Louis, following a series of x-rays.

GC Town Public Hearing Ok's $332,425 Budget

A Granite City Township budget of $332,425—down $18,524 below that of last year—was approved in a public hearing at the City Hall here Tuesday night.

The hearing, held at 6 p.m., was followed an hour later by the annual town meeting which was sparsely attended and involved only routine matters.

No changes were offered in the proposed township budget during the public hearing which set a record for brevity. The hearing began at 8 p.m. and was adjourned at 8:06 p.m.—a matter of six minutes.

The budget was not submitted for action at the town electors' meeting at 7 p.m. and is to be approved later by the Town Board, according to Township Attorney William Schooley.

Approval of the budget was the only matter brought before the public hearing.

Business before the annual town meeting—at which Alderman Gerald Parnley, who also is a town board member, served as moderator—included approval of the annual report of Township Supervisor Nelson Hagnauer, approval of the minutes of the last town meeting and adoption of a resolution authorizing the town board to hire an auditor for the annual audit of township funds.

The budget approved at the hearing projects expenditures of $119,175 in the town fund, down from $137,459 last year; $199,750 in the general assistance fund, down from $200,000, and $13,500 in the municipal retirement fund, unchanged from last year.

Granite City has no township road and bridge fund.

Hagnauer's report presented during the town meeting listed total expenditures of $173,958 in the town fund during the 1972-73 fiscal year recently ended, with a balance of $19,895 at the beginning of the new fiscal year on April 1.

Total receipts in the town fund during the 1972-73 year amounted to $193,853, the report said.

The general assistance fund had total income of $226,524 and expenditures of $206,089, leaving a balance of $18,434.

Municipal Retirement fund receipts totaled $22,700 last year, and expenses of $10,990 left a balance of $11,730, the report said.

He allegedly took his wife, Mrs. Meda Moran, from her home at 202 Granville St., Venice, to Third Street and Broadway in Venice, where, police said, he displayed a gun and threatened her. Madison police and Madison County sheriff's deputies made the arrest.

FAITH-NAMEOKI MISHAP Autos driven by Charles E. Roach, 2709 Myrtle Ave., and Ralph Brawley, 2326 Edison Ave., were in an accident at 6:10 p.m. Tuesday at Faith Avenue and Nameoki Road.

TRUNK LOCK REMOVED Joyce Hicks, 144 Pontoon Plaza, reported at 4:15 p.m. Tuesday that the trunk lock was removed from her 1972 auto but the lid could not be opened. Nothing was missing.

MOTORCYCLE DAMAGED Rock Juergensen, Rural Route One, reported at 9:30 p.m. Tuesday that someone damaged his motorcycle while it was parked at Chestnut Street and Niedringhaus Avenue. A rubber intake manifold leading to a carburetor was cut and leaves and other debris were stuffed into the manifold hose.

Vadalabene Sponsors Elevator Control Bill

New legislation has been introduced in the Senate by Senator Sam Vadalabene (D-Edwardsville) to bring all elevators installed in new buildings constructed after Oct. 1, 1973 under the control of firemen who respond to calls in such buildings.

The measure specifies that firemen will have control of these elevators in buildings over 70 feet in height and all hospitals over 30 feet in height. After Jan. 1, 1975 all other such structures with these minimum heights will be brought into compliance with this legislation.

The purpose of the legislation, Vadalabene said was "to give firemen full use of elevators to assist them in the safe evacuation of occupants and to help facilitate their fire fighting operations."

"This legislation is a major step towards life safety as well as faster and safer extinguishment of the fire thereby reducing structure damage and attendant dollar loss to the owner and occupant of the building."

Mrs. Violet Stewart, 20, of Edwardsville, who had pains to the left shoulder and knee and contusions to the back of the head and was admitted for observation following x-rays; her mother, Mrs. Jacqueline Riggs of Edwardsville, who was examined and released.

Dr. Robert C. Roach, associate professor of modern languages at St. Louis University, was guest speaker at the Granite City Rotary Club luncheon meeting Tuesday at the YMCA.

Dr. Roach used as his topic, "Economic Attitude: Cause of the Generation Gap" and said, "I believe this generation gap has been exaggerated and the fault lies with both the young people and their parents who fail to communicate with each other in relation to the view of the large companies versus student graduates who cannot find suitable employment."

The speaker was introduced by Jim Davidson.

There were 40 members present and Richard West, president, conducted the meeting.

West announced there will be no meeting on Monday in lieu of the Thursday Noon services to be held at the First United Presbyterian Church.

The club voted to donate a sum of money to the salvation Army food relief program and will decide on the amount at the April 24 meeting.

Joe Hassler was named to head a committee to prepare a list of members who will attend city council meetings and school board meetings in an effort to become more interested and involved in community affairs and become better informed citizens.

Dismissal of Gibson Among Factors Complicating Governor Walker's Relationship with Legislature, Chicago Leaders

Comment by Press-Record bureau in Springfield—Gov. Daniel Walker is a businessman who has held no other elective office. Inability to work with other members of his political party was in evidence during the campaign, but the problem did not surface again until the Chicago Transit Authority issue.

Legislators who had worked together to hammer out a compromise were miffed at the non-participating governor for his CTA veto. The inability to work with the governor then outshone the merits of the next three issues: overriding the veto, the appointment of David Fogel and the dismissal of Robert Gibson, a former Grand Canyon.

Because of the CTA veto, Senate Democrats blocked Fogel's appointment as corrections director after Republican intentions were well known. Walker then offered a trade: Milton Pikarsky, Mayor Richard Daley's choice to head the CTA, for Fogel.

Gibson, the labor leader appointed by Walker to be the non-salaried chairman of the Capital Development Board, was also the CTA controversy. He tried to arrange a meeting between labor and Walker on the issue, but the governor wouldn't see him. When Gibson then worked to override the veto, he was "fired" as board chairman.

Not content to admit that they were caught in traditional "backroom" politics which the administration likes to criticize, Press Secretary Norton Kay said Gibson resigned. When Gibson

Mayor Lee Has the Financial and Governmental Experience to Continue Venice Progress; Mayor Sasak Unopposed in Madison

Both Venice mayor candidates in the April 17 election have aided public understanding by reviewing the needs of their city and outlining proposals for improved services during the next four years.

Both pledge diligent efforts toward making the Venice area a better place in which to live and to enjoy the highest possible efficiency and economy in governmental departments.

While their presentations are almost equally commendable, Mayor Mike McCann's Mayor John E. Lee as being more capable of attaining the goals.

His combination of governmental, financial and community service experience is rare and is of significant value to the municipality in its administrative office.

Qualified School Board Candidates in Madison and Venice

Madison School District voters will choose Saturday between four candidates for three positions.

Included are three present board members: Harold T. Eisk and Sherrell L. Byrd, with 18, six and three years of service, respectively. Also running is Donald R. Boyer, a retired telephone technician; a lifelong local resident, he has been active with church and youth groups.

All seen well qualified on the basis of their past experience.

There is no opposition Saturday for two Venice School Board members seeking re-election—Mrs. Jacqueline

State Medallion Design Contest Opens Monday

Competition will open Monday in all Illinois high schools to design the state's official American Revolution Bi-Centennial medallion.

Illinois residents in grades nine through 12 are eligible. Entry blanks are being mailed this week to every high school principal in the state, McNally said.

All entries must be submitted to the principal or his delegate by May 14.

This year's contest is the first of four to be conducted each year through 1976 among all Illinois public, private and parochial high schools.

The winning entry in each state-wide contest will be featured on Illinois' official Bi-Centennial medallion for that year. The winning artist will receive a $1,500 scholarship grant. Divinity School Offers Two Ministry Programs

The School of Divinity of St. Louis University has announced two new programs in the field of ministry which will begin in the fall of 1973. They are the Pastoral Orientations Program and the Corporate Ministry Program.

The Rev. William J. Sullivan, S.J., dean of the School of Divinity, said these programs represent a development and a new orientation in ministerial education among Catholics. "Our studies show there is a need for education in ministry in the wider sense of this term," and the School of Divinity has the resources to respond to this need.

In designing these two programs, the School of Divinity has drawn upon the experience of its internationally known Institute of Religious Formation. The school will continue to offer its master of divinity program which prepares students for ordination to the priesthood.

The Pastoral Orientations Program is a two-semester program for both laymen and clergy, men and women who are interested in pastoral ministry. The program has a twofold purpose: to review the fundamentals of the Christian message in scripture and theology and to examine the manner in which the Christian message is relayed "in light of the conditions and urgencies of the contemporary pastoral scene." There will be a special emphasis on the work and problems of the Christian churches in metropolitan areas.

A baccalaureate degree or its equivalent will be prerequisite to entering the program. Participants in the program will carry 12 to 15 hours of credit each of the two semesters. There will be extensive use of workshops and seminars in the program to integrate the core curriculum with other areas of particular concern to participants. Field education for ministry will be a regular part of the program.

The Corporate Ministry Program is designed for persons who have been in ministry or religious service at least five years and have a background in theology. The program was developed by the School of Divinity as a result of a study the school began in 1971.

Father Sullivan said the study showed there is great interest and need for education in the new form of corporate "team" ministry. "We want to provide an opportunity for those with previous experience of ministry to explore with each other and outside resources the new directions and forms of ministry in the church in order to be responsive to both the traditions of the church and the social reality of man," he said.

The curriculum of the Corporate Ministry Program will concentrate on four areas: pastoral theology, pastoral sociology, pastoral psychology and pastoral ministry. In addition to courses taught by an interdisciplinary team, there will be a series of workshops and seminars.

Participants will also spend 12 to 15 hours each week in a corporate ministry experience. Personal interviews will be required for acceptance in the Corporate Ministry Program. Enrollment will be limited to 25.

Detailed information on either of these new programs may be obtained from the Dean of the School of Divinity, 220 N. Spring Ave., St. Louis, Mo. 63103. Application deadline for both the Corporate Ministry Program and the Pastoral Orientations Program is May 1.

The School of Divinity is a graduate and professional school offering both M.A. and Ph.D. programs as well as the master of divinity program preparing for ordination.

Some 51 different religious congregations are represented in the present enrollment of the school, and five communities of men maintain residences for their students at the university.

A recent American Association of Theological Schools visit to the School of Divinity cited it for its "impressive strengths, location within a major university, strong well-qualified faculty and alert student body."

Area Home Builders to Award Scholarships

Sunday is the deadline for graduating seniors from high schools in the metropolitan area to apply for $500 scholarships to be awarded for the first time this year by the Home Builders Association of Greater St. Louis.

Application forms are available from the HBA office at 10104 Old Olive Street Road, Creve Coeur, Mo. 63141, telephone 994-7700. All applications will be reviewed by a representative from a major university in the area.

Two scholarships will be awarded to seniors graduating this spring and will be presented in the name of the late Marvin Deutsch, a well-known St. Louis home builder and developer who served as president of the HBA in 1969. Deutsch died last May from injuries sustained in a fire aboard his boat on the Mississippi River near St. Charles.

To be eligible for the scholarship, an applicant must be the son or daughter of an HBA builder or associate member or the child of an employee of a member. Recipients will be required to attend an accredited university, college or junior college. There is no stipulation on the area of study of the recipient.

Two Madison Students Chosen for 'Who's Who'

Kathleen Ann Werner and Sharon Marie McBride, seniors at Madison High School, will be featured in the seventh annual edition of "Who's Who Among American High School Students", the largest student award publication in the nation.

Students from more than 18,000 public, private and parochial high schools throughout the country are recognized for their leadership in academics, athletics, activities or community service in the book. Less than two per cent of the junior and senior class students nationwide are awarded the recognition.

Kathleen, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Gerald Werner Sr., 2020 Sixth St., Madison, is active in the Latin Club, was Candy Stripper and was in the school play. She has been named an Illinois state scholar and received the NEDT certificate of merit.

Sharon, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Robert McBride, 1218 Alton Ave., Madison, is secretary of the Honor Society and is a member of the band and yearbook staff. She also is an Illinois state scholar and has received the American Legion award.

In addition to having their biographies published in the book, they will compete for one of ten $1,000 scholarship awards funded by the publishers and will be invited to participate in the firm's annual "Survey of High Achievers" later in the academic year.

After graduation in June, Kathleen plans to attend Blackburn College at Carlinville and Sharon plans to attend Southern Illinois University at Edwardsville.

Nameoki Electors Approve Vote on Trash Pickup, Community Center

The electors of Nameoki Township decided during the annual town meeting Tuesday night that referendum should be held in the township to determine if the township should undertake a trash collection program, and if a community center should be constructed.

The electors unanimously passed a resolution which requested a referendum to determine "if the township should contract for or provide" garbage and trash collection services, financed by revenue sharing funds.

Louis Whitsett, township supervisor, said, "It should cost

Granite City PRESS-RECORD
Page 32 Thur., Apr. 12, 1973

the taxpayers nothing. We have studied the cost. Nameoki Township has a population of 4,000 residents.

"We estimate we can provide trash collection, street sweeping and environmental cleanup for $57,016 the first year, including the down payment on two garbage trucks," Whitsett reported.

He said the cost could jump to $80,920 if the township purchases both trucks in the first year. "We expect to receive $103,914 in revenue sharing in the first year, which would pay for the trash collection and still leave enough for environmental cleanup," Whitsett said.

He said revenue sharing has been guaranteed to continue for five years and after it ends, the township should have enough funds to continue the program without additional taxes.

If a tax does become necessary, it will not exceed 10 cents per $100 assessed valuation, he said. "I don't think it would be that much," he added.

He explained that all figures were based upon the anticipated cost of collecting at each home twice each week. Homeowners presently contract individually with private trash haulers.

A resolution that a referendum be held to determine if a community center should be constructed met with slight opposition.

Representatives of a ladies group presented the moderator, Thomas Elliott, with a petition requesting a referendum on the issue.

The petition originally asked that the issue be placed on the April 3 township election ballot, but it was presented too late for the ballot deadline. At that time it was suggested the petioners present the issue to the town electors' meeting.

Several options were discussed, including constructing an all-purpose room onto the present town hall, which could serve as a community center and a public meeting room.

Douglas Teetor, town clerk, said if the resolution to have a referendum was passed, it would be up to the Town Board of Auditors to study the alternatives and determine the best plan.

He said the ballot for the referendum would have to include a precise location and cost estimates before it could be approved by the voters.

Whitsett said that any new building would have to be built with money raised by the selling of bonds. "A tax would have to be levied for repaying the bonds unless the township has the money," he added.

A voice vote was taken among the 50 persons present and about three opposed the resolution.

Whitsett said the trash collection and the community center referendums likely could be combined on one ballot and that only one polling place will be necessary at the town hall. No date for the referendum was announced.

Teetor gave the annual financial report showing that town fund receipts, including cash on hand at the end of the 1972-73 year, were $112,819, and disbursements of $89,415 left a balance of $23,403.

In the general assistance fund, receipts were $82,286 and disbursements were $68,348, leaving cash on hand of $14,038.

Receipts of $23,814 and disbursements of $17,860 were reported for the Illinois Municipal Retirement Fund, leaving a balance of $5,954.

No disbursements from the special bridge fund were reported, leaving $333 cash on hand, the same amount as reported at the end of the 1972-73 fiscal year.

In the road and bridge fund, receipts totaled $97,923 and disbursements were $52,823, leaving $45,099 cash at the end of the year.

Receipts of $91,885 and disbursements of $73,294, left $18,590 in the special hard road fund at the end of the year, Teetor reported.

The electors approved a resolution that $505 be appropriated as the township's annual share of the cost of operating the Southwestern Illinois Metropolitan Area Planning Commission (SIMAPC).

The electors also gave the town auditors the power to employ a certified public accountant next year to study the town books for the fiscal year from March 1, 1973, to Feb. 28, 1974.

Bill Nichols, owner of land in the township, including Lakeside Airport, said there is a possibility the state may provide space to be used by the township.

"I have good information that the proposed state office building will not be in East St. Louis and the space I have offered at Lakeside Airport is still offered," he said. Nichols suggested Whitsett contact state representatives to urge construction of the office building here, and to determine if some of the space can be made available for township purposes.

Moss Candidate of Improvement Party for Presidency of Village of Pontoon Beach

Floyd David Moss, 33, is the candidate for Pontoon Beach village president next Tuesday, April 17, of the Village Improvement Party.

A resident of 26 Victoria Drive, he was born in Granite City and is a lifelong resident, including six years in Pontoon Beach.

A machinist for seven years with the Gulf, Mobile & Ohio Railroad, Moss is a former student at Southern Illinois University at Edwardsville, majoring in social welfare and psychology. In 1972, he was a veterans' counselor with the Governor's Office of Human Resources.

He and his wife, Sheila, have three children. Moss is a member of Granite City High School and is a member of Cedarview Baptist Church.

He has been president since 1964 of Local 266, International Association of Machinists and Aerospace Workers.

A U. S. Navy veteran, he is a member of American Legion Post 113.

An original member of the Illinois Veterans' Service Task Force "Veterans' World Project," he was a researcher and contributing author to the "Wanted Men" report, a book about Vietnam veterans published in 1972 by the SIU Foundation.

Moss serves as Precinct One committeeman and is chairman of Namekoi Township Democratic committeemen. He also is a member of the executive board of the Madison County Democratic Central Committee.

He is manager of a Little League baseball team in Mitchell.

His comment on seeking the office of village president is that "more can be accomplished by participation than by observation. The most effective way to implement lasting change is to seek office and correct conditions from within the governmental structure."

In answer to a question on proposed actions or policies, Moss said, "In a five-point program for progress, I propose to improve efficiency in government by public participation in village affairs. I also plan to begin a fund for parks and playgrounds."

A tax review will be conducted to determine if any taxes now being levied can be reduced or eliminated.

"A planned program for permanent improvements in streets and drainage will be given top priority."

"Establishment of a Chamber of Commerce would be a beginning for a good working relationship between the local businessmen and the village residents."

"In order for the village to grow, we must have well-planned annexation."

"A small village, we need to draw more businesses into our area to provide us with a sound tax base for increased municipal services."

"I commend the Press-Record on its editorial stand on the development of the American Bottomlands."

"I am vitally interested in the planned growth of the stretch of land currently being discussed. I have long referred to this particle of land as the 'golden triangle.'"

"With the development of the American Bottoms, the fast-growing community of Pontoon Beach could explode with planned growth. This would and should be a dream come true for the residents of Pontoon Beach and the greater Quad-City area."

"The planned development would be the best thing that ever happened to this area. It would be a crime for a few politicians to hold up the growth and development of this entire area."

"This stretch of land borders Pontoon Beach. This planned development could improve the tax base for our entire area, making the things the citizens of the Pontoon area need a reality, not a dream."

"This could be a great commercial area. We need room not only for homes, but for shopping and recreational areas, such as good theaters, etc."

"Let's stop the money flow from crossing the Interstate 270 bridge for shopping and entertainment."

"We need to help keep Illinois green by developing the American Bottomlands."

"The chief issues April 17 are better quality government and services for the people of Pontoon Beach—a government that is responsible, controlled from within the village by the people of the village, and that is working for the people of the village first."

"The mayor and trustee candidates have pledged to serve without salary because we feel that better uses can be found for this money."

"Salaries normally paid by the village will be placed in a special fund for the development of the parks."

"Inefficiency costs money. Increased efficiency in existing departments will reduce expenses, with eight hours work for eight hours pay."

"There will be better care of village equipment, with proper maintenance schedules followed."

"Immediately upon our assuming office, work will be done to place an efficient local drainage system into operation. Those areas with the worst drainage problems will be given first consideration."

"A planned program for permanent street improvements will be implemented beginning with the worst areas and proceeding street by street as the funds become available."

"Temporary repairs will be made only if necessary. If we want decent streets, we have to start sometime."

essily be the fastest growing area in the Quad-Cities in the next few years."

"Fringe area services should be provided in the area of police and fire protection on an emergency basis only."

"Drainage is the most critical area of concern for the village residents. I do not promise better local drainage—I guarantee it."

"Fringe area drainage would be outside the village's area of responsibility; however, my administration would be willing to cooperate in any areawide planned program for the benefit of the entire community."

"The people of Pontoon Beach realize that if they want increased services beyond what they are paying for, they will have to go to the polls and vote to levy a tax to provide the additional services."

However, they have every right to complain when their village government has surplus funds drawing interest and the residents are living without proper drainage and poor roads."

A governmental body that is saving money and not providing for the citizens is failing to carry out its responsibility to the citizens it represents."

He is a member of the Glad Tidings Church, serving as a member of the church board of trustees.

Elliott was 1973 chairman of the Heart Fund drive for Pontoon Beach.

He is a member of Fairview Heights Masonic Lodge 504 the Scottish Rite and Ainal Temple Shrine.

He seeks election as village president with the comment: "With the township sewer system a potential reality, the Village of Pontoon Beach will be a center of development."

"When elected, I intend to use the talents available in our people to establish a better village in which to live."

In answer to a series of questions by the Press-Record, Elliott said:

"When I was elected, I will work for the most economical and feasible way to correct these conditions."

"Fourth—This is an issue that will have to be evaluated and given consideration by all the voters. My opponent is attempting to make the residents of our village believe that he will work for no pay."

"To me, this is only an election gimmick, judging from his actions in the past when my opponent, without hesitation, accepted a salary as village health inspector. Why would he now want to turn in his salary?"

"We are all educated people, to realize how anyone could promise to work for no pay while the village is operating in the black."

"It is very hard to find a working man who can lay off of his regular job, to work on problems of the village, without being partially compensated."

"I am a firm believer that the elected officials in the village should not be paid a full-time salary, while the village is in its infancy; however, I will encourage that the elected officials be compensated for their losses to a small degree."

"Fifth—Another chief issue that has developed in this current election is leadership ability. For the past 14 years, I have had a great deal of experience with the public by being a technical service representative for the National Cash Register Co."

"I feel I have the ability to provide competent leadership needed to help solve the problems of our village. My opponent has publicly displayed his temper and has left the impression with many of us that he is a very emotional person."

"A village president will have to be a person who can take it 'on the chin' without losing his temper, because the decisions he will be asked to make will affect our village for many years to come."

"The president will have to be a person who can stick to his convictions and cannot be turned aside by special interest groups at the expense of the people."

"One year ago my opponent was strongly opposed to his present backers. Now, in order to be elected, he has made every effort to form a machine to control every facet of village government."

"My opponent and I are both without political experience. Neither one of us can honestly criticize the programs of the other."

"I have always been a firm believer of keeping politics out of village government. I am running as an independent and remain independent, although I am privately a Democrat. My opponent voted Republican until the opportunity to hold a Democratic office came along."

"If we propose economy in the operation of the village government, such as proper management in investment of surplus funds, to introduce programs to enhance maximum efficiency in every village department, competitive bidding should be held at a minimum and an honest day's work from each and every citizen."

"Other economies that I will promote will be enforcement of business licenses equally to all businesses."

"I firmly believe that Pontoon Beach is in need of a new village hall; however, the furnishing of this new building should be held at a minimum until the priorities are taken care of first."

"We cannot promise every new program to the residents without expecting someone to pay for it. New programs should be introduced progressively with the funds that are available."

"However, as I said before, more can be gained from inter-governmental cooperation."

"Madison County has presently introduced a new program of parks and recreation. We will be eligible for much help in acquisition of land from the Madison County Parks Department."

"There are, at this time, many tracts of land available in our area to be set aside for recreation. Some of these are small tracts that are within our area, they have already been dedicated as parks and could be developed at no cost."

"Other new programs which I will institute, which again will include cooperation between existing governments, will be the civil defense purchasing program whereby equipment such as trucks, furniture, emergency equipment and vehicles can be purchased through government surplus by cities and villages for a small amount."

"Through intergovernmental cooperation with the township, we will encourage a township trash collection district to pick up our trash. This will represent an immediate dollar savings for each and every resident."

"Our policy on annexation should be instituted with a very open mind. Growth without prosperity is no growth at all. If annexation can be beneficial to our present residents, we should encourage it wholeheartedly. However, annexation that drains the pocketbooks of our present residents should be discouraged."

Elliott Running for Pontoon Beach Village President on the People in Action Ticket

Thomas W. Elliott, 31, of 16 Eastgate Drive, seeks election next Tuesday, April 17, as president of the Village of Pontoon Beach as the candidate of the People in Action Party.

A National Cash Register Co. technical service representative, he resides here with his wife, Viva, daughter, Kimberly Jane, and son, Doug.

Born in Edgemoor, St. Clair County, he has been a Pontoon Beach resident approximately five years.

A graduate of East St. Louis Senior High School, Elliott is vice-president of the Pontoon Beach Community Improvement Association and a member of the executive board of the Truth in Action Party of Namekoi Township.

He is a member of the Glad Tidings Church, serving as a member of the church board of trustees.

Elliott was 1973 chairman of the Heart Fund drive for Pontoon Beach.

He is a member of Fairview Heights Masonic Lodge 504 the Scottish Rite and Ainal Temple Shrine.

"Growth without planning can only mean higher taxes to the residents of our village."

"If we are to have growth with prosperity, we must encourage industry and businesses to locate in this area. I feel that a committee made up of businessmen and leaders from this area should be appointed to promote this economical development."

"A recent report from an engineering firm has confirmed my opinions that the American Bottoms can be and will be developed through proper planning."

"As village president I will well-provide help not only in planning for development in our village; for example, in the area of the police department."

"Presently, there has been no police department for a village of our size. There are many improvements needed and will be progressively made with the assistance of professional people who are educated in police work."

"I will not institute any immediate change in our present police department. However, I will immediately work to associate the police department from politics."

"Law enforcement officers who have to answer to a politician cannot be effective in their line of duty."

"The chief issues of the village are in the following priorities," Elliott continued.

"First—Sanitation and drainage. When elected, I will work for the most economical and feasible way to correct these conditions."

"Second—The condition of our streets."

"Third—To encourage annexation into our village and encourage businesses and industries to locate here."

Rose Wasylik Wins K. C. Spelling Bee

Rose Wasylik, an eighth grade student at St. Joseph's School, won the annual Knights of Columbus spelling bee held Sunday afternoon for Quad-City parochial school students at the K. of C. hall.

She defeated a classmate, also an eighth grader at St. Joseph's, when he misspelled the word "preview," placing the "e" before the "i."

Placing third was Kenneth McGarran, an eighth grade student at St. Mary-St. Mark's School.

The winner is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Theodore Wasylik, 2313 Grand Ave. The runner-up is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Jack French, 2250 Cleveland Blvd. McGarran's parents are Mr. and Mrs. George McGarran, 817 Lee Ave., Madison.

St. Joseph's School retained the area spelling championship, having won the title last year when it retired a traveling trophy. The school will have possession of a new traveling trophy for the next school year.

The winner and runner-up will compete in the annual Madison County K. of C. spelling bee to be held at 7:30 p.m. Friday, Madison.

He resides at 1230 Klein Ave. He and his wife, Margaret, have a son, Jack, and two daughters, Mary Frances and Peggy.

Dr. Lee has a dental practice at 4014 Madison Ave., Madison. He is president of the First National Bank in Madison.

His objectives in a new term are "to continue honest, responsible government; to enact programs for senior citizens and a more comprehensive recreation program; to continue to help secure jobs for Venice residents; to continue upgrading the Venice police, fire and street departments so that they may serve our residents even better than at present; and to see more homes erected and the Broadway underpass completed."

Dr. Lee said it is hoped to utilize revenue sharing to carry out programs for senior citizens and to help the Venice Park District in expanding recreation programs and services.

"We would like to finish projects which are now under way and continue to serve all the residents of Venice," the mayor continued.

Asked to name the chief issues to be evaluated by voters, Dr. Lee said, "The issues are whether the people of Venice feel they are being treated fairly; whether they are getting the services they pay for through their tax dollars; and whether they feel they are being served

A local resident 29 years, he was born in Vernon, Ala. He is running for office on the Independent Party ticket.

Mr. Walker and his wife, Fritzell, are the parents of one child, Shannon.

He is employed in job counseling and placement work at the Venice-Lincoln Technical Center, a state-local educational center for adults in this region. He has been a supervisor and teacher for six years.

He is active in the Tri-City Area YMCA and is a member of the YMCA board.

His memberships include the Venice-Madison Fine Art Committee, New Hope Lodge 22 and the Madison Chapter of the National Association for the Advancement of Colored People.

His comments on the effort to become mayor of Venice for the next four years are as follows:

"As mayor, I plan to carry out the following programs during the next four years:

"1. Institution of a much-needed housing program across the city."

"2. Demolition of condemned homes."

"3. Renewal of some present facilities."

"4. Construction of additional homes for present and new residents."

"5. First, set up an advisory board to work with the park board."

"6. Survey the community and develop a recreational plan for the community wants."

"7. Improvement of all city services."

"8. Aid for upgrade programs for senior citizens."

WILLIE WALKER
Mayor Candidate
City of Venice

"5. Hold town meetings."

"By far, housing and recreation are the chief issues that should be evaluated by the voters," Mr. Walker asserts.

"Our present administration has been in control for a number of years and they have done little or nothing in these two important areas."

"Our community needs have been pushed by the wayside."

"Revenue sharing funds will give the City of Venice a golden opportunity, without raising taxes, to institute and carry out some of the above programs."

"For our senior citizens,"

Environment Agency Favors Extending GC Steel Deadline

The Illinois Environmental Protection Agency on Monday recommended extensions of variances originally granted to Granite City Steel Co. last April.

The variances are in connection with the state Pollution Control Board's approval of the company's $4 million-plus plan to further reduce emissions from its coke making and sintering operations.

The EPA noted that Granite City Steel already has installed and is operating a battle system to trap steam-borne contaminants from its coke quench towers, a coke quench car water-fogging system to reduce smoke during the pushing and delivery of coke to the quench tower, and cyclone and baghouse cleaning systems to further reduce emissions from the sinter plant breaker process.

The company has reported that all of this equipment, which is part of the state-approved emission control program under which the variances were granted initially, is operating properly.

The EPA added that major repair work now in progress on the company's older coke oven batteries should result in still further coke oven emission reductions. The repairs are being done independently, and are not part of the state-approved emission control program.

The company reported that it work is on schedule in the installation of the two new elements of the state-approved emission control program. These are a new, automatic coke oven coal charging system considered to be the most advanced in the world, and a high-efficiency, venturi-type scrubbing unit to further reduce emissions from the sinter plant main windbox.

The Agency also said it has approved the company's coke oven operating and maintenance work rules, adding they are the first such rules to receive EPA approval in Illinois. The coke making and sintering processes are acknowledged as the sources of the steel industry's most difficult remaining emission control problems. Coke is the fuel used to reduce iron ore to molten iron in blast furnaces. It is produced by the controlled heating of blends of low-sulfur coal and long, narrow ovens without enough air present for the coal to burn.

At the sinter plant, otherwise worthless plant wastes — fine iron ore, coke dust, blast furnace dust and rolling mill scales — are recycled, or fused together and used as part of the iron-bearing charge at the company's two blast furnaces.

The EPA recommendation was made at a public hearing in Edwardsville in response to a variance extension request by Granite City Steel.

Executive Payroll 'Cut' Not Saving Any State Tax Funds

By BOB ESTILL
Copley News Service

Springfield—Gov. Dan Walker has cut his executive office payroll, but it's a "paper cut" that won't save taxpayers any money.

Walker has diminished his "front office" payroll not by eliminating jobs but by switching employees to other payrolls. It has been pointed out that Gov. Walker appeared to have violated his own executive order freezing payrolls at the Nov. 1, 1972, level for all departments and agencies under his command.

On Nov. 1, then Gov. Richard Ogilvie had 55 persons on his "executive office" payroll at a total monthly rate of $37,461 and three persons on an "executive coordinators" payroll at combined monthly salaries of $8,538.

Walker was over that level in mid-February with 63 persons on the executive office payroll at $63,537-a-month.

At that time, Walker's press secretary Norton Kay said $3,206-a-month Deputy Gov. Victor DeGrazia and $2,916-a-month Dr. Mark Lepper, health services coordinator and comprehensive health planning agency director, would be carried on the separate "executive coordinators" payroll.

An examination of the March payroll record shows Walker has brought his executive office payroll to beneath Ogilvie's Nov. 1 level by shifting employees to other payrolls, primarily the executive coordinator's payroll.

Walker now has 56 persons on the executive office payroll at monthly rates totaling $64,283, but he has increased his coordinators payroll to seven persons at $10,345-a-month, topping the Nov. 1 freeze level.

The "coordinators" payroll includes DeGrazia, $2,500-a-month; legal counsel Chester Kamin, and $1,006-a-month gubernatorial assistant George Jones and four secretaries.

Dr. Lepper doesn't appear on either payroll, even though his predecessor in the same role had been carried on the "coordinators" payroll under Ogilvie.

Kay said Lepper will be carried on the Public Health Department payroll because it would be more appropriate. Absent from any payroll is one of Walker's newest high paid assistants, David Fogel.

Gov. Walker named Fogel a $2,916-a-month special adviser on corrections after the Senate rejected Fogel for Corrections director. Norton said he didn't know what payroll Fogel would appear on.

Kay said Lepper will be giving staff people in an attempt to make it appear he was cutting costs, and to make it more difficult to make comparisons with Ogilvie's staff.

Kay contended the transfers from the executive office payroll to the "coordinators" payroll were made because the persons involved had "functions that go with a number of agencies."

However, at least four other Walker staff members with responsibilities involving more than one agency remain on an executive office budget trimmed down to barely undercut Ogilvie's Nov. 1 level.

OF OUR LITTLE CAR.

In Vega's first year, 1971, it was the Motor Trend Car of the Year. A singular honor, and the first of many. Later that year, in the Car & Driver Reader's Choice poll, Vega was named "best economy sedan." It was the first time in the eight years of the poll that an American car had won in that category.

Last year Vega again emerged as the Car & Driver readers' favorite in the economy sedan category.

And in a nationwide survey of auto servicemen conducted by Motor Service and Service Station Management magazines Vega was considered to be the easiest subcompact to service.

Now, in 1973, two more big ones for our little one: Motor Trend named our Vega GT the Economy Car of the Year.

And Car & Driver readers, for the third year in a row, voted Vega, the "best economy sedan."

We appreciate all the honors, but we're really much more interested in your stamp of approval.

Please, stop by your local Chevy dealer's for a test drive. See why we're so proud.

Pointers on Decorating Bedrooms for Children

By BARBARA HARTUNG
Copy News Service

Q. We are moving to a new home and have tiny rooms for our boys and girl, 4 and 6. I am really at a loss as to where to start in decorating their rooms.

A. I haven't any talent in putting colors together. Yet I want to create nice rooms for them. How do I start—E. Y. T.

A. If you are starting without any colors that you have to work around, I'd suggest you go looking at wallpaper with coordinated fabric.

There are a number of very fine ones on the market today. There are bold patterns and clear colors and the designs have been put together by professionals.

Let them do the work for you. Choose a fabric and wallpaper that your children like. Then do a wall or ceiling and closet in the wallpaper.

Use the matching fabric for window curtains or a laminated window shade.

You could repeat the fabric in bedspreads or take a color out of the print for a plain bedspread. Take other colors out of it for the walls and the floor covering.

You'll be surprised what a professional job you can do by selecting a print fabric and merely repeating the colors in it.

Q. We have a small spinet piano that has been in our living room. Now we have added a family room and I want to put it out there.

We'd like to have it come out from the wall. What is the best way of covering up the ugly back of it—O. M.

A. I have seen two different treatments. One is to make a shirred piece of fabric that is attached between two thin curtain rods cut the same width as the piano.

One is anchored to the top and the other to the bottom.

Or you can put a thin piece of wood paneling across the back and carefully attach it so it can be removed easily if you want to move the piano.

You could then paint the paneling the color of your walls or stain it a wood tone.

Q. We have a very contemporary living room which has off-white walls.

We have two windows on each side of our sofa that run from a foot off the floor to the ceiling. They are only 14 inches wide.

They look out on an old building.

ing so the view is bad. We don't know quite how to treat the windows to give some light yet obliterate the view and not call attention to them.

We want a neat tailored look.—B. W.

A. I recently saw a room with a similar problem and the designer had ordered large than usual wood shutters the exact width of the window.

She had set the window shutters over the window and painted the entire thing the wall color.

The window's view was obscured, a small amount of light came in but the window was hardly noticeable.

Instead of the usual 1-inch shutter, these were about 2 1/2 to 3 inches wide. They were permanently closed.

Q. I have what to be the most personality-less bathroom ever built. It's in an apartment that I am renting so I can't wallpaper or paint.

Everything is white—plumbing fixtures, cabinet and top, walls, ceiling and floor. What can I do to add some life?

I need white color towels or curtains. Also what color for towels?

My budget is very slim right now so please suggest something inexpensive.—O. T.

A. For a really budget job with lots of life, go shopping for some wild shiny vinyl floor that has either geometrics or flowers in it and lots of bold colors as well as a touch of white.

Make your shower curtain of that and do a window shade to match.

Take the brightest colors out for the towels. Reuse one for a bright rug on the floor.

Cover a waste basket in the bright vinyl and maybe even a white mirror frame. You should immediately give life and personality to your bathroom.

Q. My two roommates and I are looking for an apartment in a large city that will be comfortable for all of us.

We are really confused after only a little looking.

We've never lived in a city apartment before and are at a loss as to what we want or need. Any suggestions for looking?—T. W.

A. You have plenty of sympathy because usually availability and finances govern your choice more than anything else.

However, you might keep in mind you need a bedroom to amply care for your three beds or two bedrooms.

Check storage so you can load all your extra clothes and belongings into them.

A bathroom off a foyer or living room is very useful in this kind of apartment so if one person is entertaining, guests don't have to march through the bedroom to use the bathroom.

Look, too, for adequate kitchen counter space and storage and full-size appliances.

In the living room, be certain you can arrange whatever furniture you might now have or contemplate buying if you're renting unfurnished.

Why not sell your home yourself?

If you choose this approach, you run a number of risks. You will be compelled to stay home, waiting for the telephone to ring, or for people to drop in. If you go out you may miss a good prospect.

When the doorbell rings, you never know who is there. It could be one of dozens of real estate people after your listing. Even worse, it could be a total stranger. You have no way of knowing whether he's a qualified buyer, or whether he simply wants to look around.

If he's a prospect and makes an offer, it's frequently low, poorly conceived from your standpoint and not even in writing. You have no assurance that the sales agreement you may reach with such a buyer is secure.

In short, you are asking for trouble.

BETTER TO GO WITH A PROFESSIONAL. A good Realtor can help you avoid these dangers and unpleasant experiences. And as long as you're choosing a broker, it's just good sense and costs no more (maybe less) to choose the best.

In Memoriam
In LOVING MEMORY OF REV. S. F. PETERS, who departed this life, April 2, 1968. To-day arrives with sad regrets; it brings back a day I'll never forget. One so thoughtful and true, I had to bid this world adieu. Loving and kind in all his way. Upright and just to the end. To have, to love, and then to part. The greatest sorrow of one's life. The years may wipe out many things. But this they wipe out never—the memory of those happy days. When we were all together.

In LOVING MEMORY OF REV. S. F. PETERS, who departed this life, April 2, 1968. To-day arrives with sad regrets; it brings back a day I'll never forget. One so thoughtful and true, I had to bid this world adieu. Loving and kind in all his way. Upright and just to the end. To have, to love, and then to part. The greatest sorrow of one's life. The years may wipe out many things. But this they wipe out never—the memory of those happy days. When we were all together.

Eight Points on Menu To Protect the Heart
Copley News Service
Nutrition experts suggest: Serve meals which will protect your family's hearts.
Following a low-cholesterol, low-saturated-fat meal plan will be greatly simplified if you use this eight-point guide:
1. Use fewer egg yolks (limit to three to six per week) and other cholesterol-rich foods such as organ meats and shellfish.
2. Use smaller portions of meat. All meats should be very lean and trimmed of all fat before cooking.
3. Use fish, poultry and veal more often than beef and other meats.
4. Do not use whole milk, cream, butter, ice cream and other products with more than 2 percent fat cheese and cottage cheese; no non-dairy powdered creamers, non-dairy imitation whipped cream or sour cream.
5. Use only imitation or non-dairy products which state that they are polysaturated and give the source of the vegetable oil.
6. Read labels to know which commercial products contain saturated fat which may be even as vegetable shortening, hydrogenated vegetable oil, street, commissioner, chief of police, fire chief and superintendent of Venice schools, my special thanks.

Ravanelli's RESTAURANT NEWS

Restaurants come in assorted sizes, prices and themes. But we all have one thing in common: to serve people every minute of the day. A restaurant is a place where you can relax, celebrate, remember, even forget. To your competitor you are always filled. To your guest you are living the life of Riley.

Restaurants live with phrases like "we're a cook and dishwasher short today," your steady customer for years has just told you that his steak is cold and this is the last time you will ever see him. It's the only business where you are only as good as your next meal. A restaurant is a smile on your face with two people short, a new girl with grease stains, shaking hands with new people while your left hand is on the plunger, smiling at strangers with a couple of hours sleep, and your kid making when it's dead center home?

Restaurants are Saturday nights, low food costs, Mother's Day, and rain on a weekend Sunday. Restaurants are much for facing rain, weather warnings, phone going up down, the world series and the Super Bowl all rolled into one. But when you hear those "we're opening words" ... "It's the best meal I ever had" ... and we'll be back.
